

Pdf free The great shame and triumph of irish in english speaking world thomas keneally (2023)

this work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it this work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work this work is in the public domain in the united states of america and possibly other nations within the united states you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work as a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public we appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant multilingualism in the english speaking world is the winner of the baal book prize 2005 multilingualism in the english speaking world pedigree of nations explores the consequences of english as a global language and multilingualism as a social phenomenon written accessibly it explores the extent of diversity in inner circle english speaking countries the uk the usa canada south africa australia and new zealand and examines language in the home school and the wider community considers the perspectives of english as a global language as well as multilingualism as a social phenomenon written in an accessible style that draws on contemporary real life examples examines the everyday realities of people living in inner circle english speaking countries such as the uk usa canada south africa australia and new zealand discusses the theoretical issues that underpin current debates drawing on research literature on societal multilingualism language maintenance and shift language policy language and power and language and identity the nine topics in each section are viewed from a teenage perspective and range from sport and food to lifestyle and music the material is designed to stimulate discussion and cross cultural comparison each topic culminates with a suggestion for project work gap filing matching skimming and scanning as well as quizzes games and puzzles a cd with the principal texts and interviews recorded by native speakers is included as a supplement a full answer key is provided new studies of both goethe s relationship to the english speaking world and its perception of goethe and his works goethe s relations with the english speaking world have been the subject of scholarly investigation ever since his lifetime this volume brings together eighteen articles that provide new points of view a broad range of approaches and new and original findings on this relationship these range from the discussion of applications of recent critical approaches such as chaos theory and edward said s orientalism to goethean texts through other more empirical contributions that bring to light new material some of it deriving from archives in weimar relating to goethe s contact with english culture other essays involve the reassessment of questions of influence from both sides in the case of cooper and goethe some standard assumptions are revised while in the case of goethe and edith wharton and goethe and george eliot new comparative ground is broken close readings of portions of well known texts such as faust and wilhelm meister challenge standard assumptions the analysis of selected recent translations of goethe s poetry raises perennial questions of cultural transfer while the survey of the role played by some of goethe s texts in one corner of the english speaking world dublin is long overdue nicholas boyle is reader in german literary and intellectual history head of the department of german in the university of cambridge and fellow of magdalene college john guthrie is college lecturer in german and director of studies in modern languages at new hall cambridge exts such as faust and wilhelm meister challenge standard assumptions the analysis of selected recent translations of goethe s poetry raises perennial questions of cultural transfer while the survey of the role played by some of goethe s texts in one corner of the english speaking world dublin is long overdue nicholas boyle is reader in german literary and intellectual history head of the department of german in the university of cambridge and fellow of magdalene college john guthrie is college lecturer in german and director of studies in modern languages at new hall cambridge exts suchas faust and wilhelm meister challenge standard assumptions the analysis of selected recent translations of goethe s poetry raises perennial questions of cultural transfer while the survey of the role played by some of goethe s texts in one corner of the english speaking world dublin is long overdue nicholas boyle is reader in german literary and intellectual history head of the department of german in the university of cambridge and fellow of magdalene college john guthrie is college lecturer in german and director of studies in modern languages at new hall cambridge exts suchas faust and wilhelm meister challenge standard assumptions the analysis of selected recent translations of goethe s poetry raises perennial questions of cultural transfer while the survey of the role played by some of goethe s texts in one corner of the english speaking world dublin is long overdue nicholas boyle is reader in german literary and intellectual history head of the department of german in the university of cambridge and fellow of magdalene college john guthrie is college lecturer in german and director of studies in modern languages at new hall cambridge versity of cambridge and fellow of magdalene college john guthrie is college lecturer in german and director of studies in modern languages at new hall cambridge multilingualism in the english speaking world is the winner of the baal book prize 2005 multilingualism in the english speaking world pedigree of nations explores the consequences of english as a global language and multilingualism as a social phenomenon written accessibly it explores the extent of diversity in inner circle english speaking countries the uk the usa canada south africa australia and new zealand and examines language in the home school and the wider community considers the perspectives of english as a global language as well as multilingualism as a social phenomenon written in an accessible style that draws on contemporary real life examples examines the everyday realities of people living in inner circle english speaking countries such as the uk usa canada south africa australia and new zealand discusses the theoretical issues that underpin current debates drawing on research literature on societal multilingualism language maintenance and shift language policy language and power and language and identity this volume explores the attention awarded in the english speaking world to german philosopher gottfried wilhelm leibniz complete with an introductory overview the book collects fourteen essays that consider leibniz s connections with his english speaking contemporaries and near contemporaries as well as the later reception of his thought in anglo american philosophy it sheds new light on leibniz s philosophy and that of his contemporaries this book develops interdisciplinary and comparative approaches to analyzing the cross cultural travels of traditional chinese fiction it ties this genre to issues such as translation world literature digital humanities book culture and images of china each chapter offers a case study of the historical and cultural conditions under which traditional chinese fiction has traveled to the english speaking world proposing a critical lens that can be used to explain these cross cultural encounters the book seeks to identify connections between traditional chinese fiction and other cultures that create new meanings and add to the significance of reading teaching and studying these classical novels and stories in the english speaking world scholars students and general readers who are interested in traditional chinese fiction translation studies and comparative and world literature will find this book useful this edited book is a comparative study on teacher education across ten major englishspeaking regions of the world usa english canada england and wales scotland ireland singapore hong kong south africa australia new zealand the focus on individual regions is reflective of a comparative approach with a long tradition going back to the turn of the twentieth century this approach is still valid at the present time as it provides one of the best ways of initially structuring our understanding of teacher education at the macro level in order to facilitate communication of the situation crossnationally and prepare the way for higher levels of analyses to this end the book has twelve chapters an introductory chapter details the focus of the book this is followed by a chapter on each of the ten regions each of these chapters written by an expert in the field focuses on general trends in teacher education rather than on any specific aspect of it focuses primarily on pre service teacher education at the primary and post primary levels although some reference is also made to continuing professional development strikes a balance between past present and future trends deals broadly with access to the processes involved in and the structure of teacher education has a unique structure rather than one based upon a formulaic approach in the final chapter major themes are distilled from the case studies it also outlines how the book furthers understanding of teacher education internationally considers other groupings of regions ripe for consideration along similar lines and indicates initiatives arising out of the case studies worthy of consideration for the improvement of teacher education cross nationally co published with the international research foundation for english language education tirl an important contribution to the emerging body of research based knowledge about teaching english to native speakers of arabic this volume presents empirical studies carried out in egypt lebanon oman palestine saudi arabia and the united arab emirates uae a region which has gained notable attention in the past few decades each chapter addresses an issue of current concern and each includes implications for policy practice and future research nine chapter authors are sheikh nahayan fellows recipients of doctoral fellowships from the international research foundation for english language education tirl this volume is the first in the global research on teaching and learning english series co published by routledge and tirl in a context where cultural transformations have become a basic feature of modern life as people and nations are brought closer together this book tackles transformations occurring within and across cultures of the english speaking world in the fields of literature painting architecture photography and film it helps readers decipher these dynamic phenomena and situate them in a historical perspective the articles move within and across cultures and mirror the broad range of approaches to cultural practices that have appeared in the past few decades they provide readers with tools to work out the transformations these practices undergo and the new life and meaning this process infuses into cultures of the english speaking world this book will be useful to graduate and doctoral students as well as post doctoral researchers working in film studies cultural studies art history literature and creative writing its clear language and pedagogical approaches will also make it accessible to the general public describes how and where english is spoken and how it helps the world communicate accompanying cassettes include readings of texts in authentic accents activities and reading comprehension exercises the anglo saxon century and the unification of the english speaking people is a book by john r dos passos anglo saxons were a cultural group who inhabited england in the early middle ages and were shaped from several incoming germanic tribes here historically analyzed in this study mapping africa in the english speaking world addresses issues of representations of africa in the english speaking world english has become a global language which has turned the world into a global village and as graddol 2008 states it is now redefining national and individual identities worldwide shifting political fault lines creating new global patterns of wealth and social exclusion and suggesting new notions of human rights and responsibilities of citizenship this book grapples with the relationship between africa and the rest of the english speaking world and touches on issues of euro american misrepresentations of the continent in literary works and films misrepresentations which are nevertheless passed as true and infallible knowledge of africa marginalization of africans african languages and culture african scholarship language policy language diglossia african theatre in post colonial africa identity negotiations in post colonial africa and relations between gender and language among other issues these issues are bound to stimulate debates on africa and its representation s in the english speaking world includes the union s annual report exam revision from the year 2014 in the subject english language and literature studies other university of bremen fb 10 english speaking cultures course key moments in the linguistic history of the english speaking world language english abstract this is my revision sheet for key moments in the linguistic history of the english speaking wolrd it includes all aspects you need to know for the exam nevertheless you should also read the texts from mcintyre provided in studip if you take part in this course content old english history and language middle english history and language early modern english history and language translation of the bible standardisation great vowel shift inner outer and expanding circles pidgins and creoles north american english indian english english in the southern hemisphere australian english new zealand english black south african english white south african english language and educational policies the current volume presents a number of chapters which look at informal vernacular letters written mostly by emigrants to the former colonies of britain who settled at these locations in the past few centuries with a focus on letters from the nineteenth century such documents often show features for varieties of english which do not necessarily appear in later sources or which are not attested with the same range or in the same set of grammatical contexts this has to do with the vernacular nature of the letters i e they were written by speakers who had a lower level of education and whose speech and hence their written form of language does not appear to have been guided by considerations of standardness and conformity to external norms of language furthermore the writers of the emigrant letters examined in the current volume were very unlikely to have known of still less have used manuals of letter writing emigrant letters thus provide a valuable source of data in tracing the possible development of features in varieties of english in the usa canada south africa australia and new zealand lifelike offers a new approach to learning about the cultures of the english speaking world presenting them primarily from an insider s viewpoint rather than considering culture in terms of abstract information or common place assumptions lifelike focuses on real life experience and the way culture shapes daily life in today s multicultural societies that s why together with material such as articles web sites songs maps and geographical data lifelike employs a range of short accessible passages of fiction essay and autobiography by young writers from all over the english speaking world from zadie smith and nick hornby to daniel clowes and jhumpa lahiri exploring and commenting on aspects of their own culture from exciting new angles in language that is fresh authentic and direct

Cultural Links: An Exploration of the English-Speaking World

2008-01-01

this work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it this work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work this work is in the public domain in the united states of america and possibly other nations within the united states you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work as a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public we appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant

English Speaking World

1921

multilingualism in the english speaking world is the winner of the baal book prize 2005 multilingualism in the english speaking world pedigree of nations explores the consequences of english as a global language and multilingualism as a social phenomenon written accessibly it explores the extent of diversity in inner circle english speaking countries the uk the usa canada south africa australia and new zealand and examines language in the home school and the wider community considers the perspectives of english as a global language as well as

multilingualism as a social phenomenon written in an accessible style that draws on contemporary real life examples examines the everyday realities of people living in inner circle english speaking countries such as the uk usa canada south africa australia and new zealand discusses the theoretical issues that underpin current debates drawing on research literature on societal multilingualism language maintenance and shift language policy language and power and language and identity

The English-speaking World

1957

the nine topics in each section are viewed from a teenage perspective and range from sport and food to lifestyle and music the material is designed to stimulate discussion and cross cultural comparison each topic culminates with a suggestion for project work gap filing matching skimming and scanning as well as quizzes games and puzzles a cd with the principal texts and interviews recorded by native speakers is included as a supplement a full answer key is provided

Background to English-speaking Countries

1987

new studies of both goethe s relationship to the english speaking world and its perception of goethe and his works goethe s relations with the english speaking world have been the subject of scholarly investigation ever since his lifetime this volume brings together eighteen articles that provide new points of view a broad range of approaches and new and original findings on this relationship these range from the discussion of applications of recent critical approaches such as chaos theory and Edward Said's orientalism to Goethean texts through other more empirical contributions that bring to light new material some of it deriving from archives in Weimar relating to Goethe's contact with English culture other essays involve the reassessment of questions of influence from both sides in the case of Cooper and Goethe some standard assumptions are revised while in the case of Goethe and Edith Wharton and Goethe and George Eliot new comparative ground is broken close readings of portions of well known texts such as Faust and Wilhelm Meister challenge standard assumptions the analysis of selected recent translations of Goethe's poetry raises perennial questions of cultural transfer while the survey of the role played by some of Goethe's texts in one corner of the English speaking world Dublin is long overdue Nicholas Boyle is reader in German literary and intellectual history head of the department of German in the University of Cambridge and fellow of Magdalene College John Guthrie is college lecturer in German and director of studies in Modern Languages at New Hall Cambridge exts such as Faust and Wilhelm Meister challenge standard assumptions the analysis of selected recent translations of Goethe's poetry raises perennial questions of cultural transfer while the survey of the role played by some of Goethe's texts in one corner of the English speaking world Dublin is long overdue Nicholas Boyle is reader in German literary and intellectual history head of the department of German in the University of Cambridge and fellow of Magdalene College John Guthrie is college lecturer in German and director of studies in Modern Languages at New Hall Cambridge exts such as Faust and Wilhelm Meister challenge standard assumptions the analysis of selected recent translations of Goethe's poetry raises perennial questions of cultural transfer while the survey of the role played by some of Goethe's texts in one corner of the English speaking world Dublin is long overdue Nicholas Boyle is reader in German literary and intellectual history head of the department of German in the University of Cambridge and fellow of Magdalene College John Guthrie is college lecturer in German and director of studies in Modern Languages at New Hall Cambridge exts such as Faust and Wilhelm Meister challenge standard assumptions the analysis of selected recent translations of Goethe's poetry raises perennial questions of cultural transfer while the survey of the role played by some of Goethe's texts in one corner of the English-speaking world Dublin is long overdue Nicholas Boyle is reader in German literary and intellectual history head of the department of German in the University of Cambridge and fellow of Magdalene College John Guthrie is college lecturer in German and director of studies in modern languages at New Hall Cambridge University of Cambridge and fellow of Magdalene College John Guthrie is college lecturer in German and director of studies in modern languages at New Hall Cambridge

Cervantes in the English-speaking World

2005

Multilingualism in the English-speaking world is the winner of the Baal Book Prize 2005 Multilingualism in the English-speaking world Pedigree of Nations explores the consequences of English as a global language and multilingualism as a social phenomenon written accessibly it explores the extent of diversity in inner circle English-speaking countries the UK the USA Canada South Africa Australia and New Zealand and examines language in the home school and the wider community considers the perspectives of English as a global language as well as multilingualism as a social phenomenon written in an accessible style that draws on contemporary real life examples examines the everyday realities of people living in inner circle English-speaking countries such as the UK USA Canada South Africa Australia and New Zealand discusses the theoretical issues that underpin current debates drawing on research literature on societal multilingualism language maintenance and shift language policy language and power and language and identity

Teacher's Book

2008-01-01

this volume explores the attention awarded in the english speaking world to german philosopher gottfried wilhelm leibniz complete with an introductory overview the book collects fourteen essays that consider leibniz s connections with his english speaking contemporaries and near contemporaries as well as the later reception of his thought in anglo american philosophy it sheds new light on leibniz s philosophy and that of his contemporaries

The English-speaking World, Volume 4, Issues 8-9

2019-03-24

this book develops interdisciplinary and comparative approaches to analyzing the cross cultural travels of traditional chinese fiction it ties this genre to issues such as translation world literature digital humanities book culture and images of china each chapter offers a case study of the historical and cultural conditions under which traditional chinese fiction has traveled to the english speaking world proposing a critical lens that can be used to explain these cross cultural encounters the book seeks to identify connections between traditional chinese fiction and other cultures that create new meanings and add to the significance of reading teaching and studying these classical novels and stories in the english speaking world scholars students and general readers who are interested in traditional chinese fiction translation studies and comparative and world literature will find this book useful

Place Names of the English-speaking World

1972

this edited book is a comparative study on teacher education across ten major englishspeaking regions of the world usa english canada england and wales scotland ireland singapore hong kong south africa australia new zealand the focus on individual regions is reflective of a comparative approach with a long tradition going back to the turn of the twentieth century this approach is still valid at the present time as it provides one of the best ways of initially structuring our understanding of teacher education at the macro level in order to facilitate communication of the situation crossnationally and prepare the way for higher levels of analyses to this end the book has twelve chapters an introductory chapter details the focus of the book this is followed by a chapter on each of the ten regions each of these chapters written by an expert in the field focuses on general trends in teacher education rather than on any specific aspect of it focuses primarily on pre service teacher education at the primary and post primary levels although some reference is also made to continuing professional development strikes a balance between past present and future trends deals broadly with access to the processes involved in and the structure of teacher education has a unique structure rather than one based upon a formulaic approach in the final chapter major themes are distilled from the case studies it also outlines how the book furthers understanding of teacher education internationally considers other groupings of regions ripe for consideration along similar lines and indicates initiatives arising out of the case studies worthy of consideration for the improvement of teacher education cross nationally

In the English-speaking World

1998

co published with the international research foundation for english language education tird an important contribution to the emerging body of research based knowledge about teaching english to native speakers of arabic this volume presents empirical studies carried out in egypt lebanon oman palestine saudi arabia and the united arab emirates uae a region which has gained notable attention in the past few decades each chapter addresses an issue of current concern and each includes implications for policy practice and future research nine chapter authors are sheikh nahayan fellows recipients of doctoral fellowships from the international research foundation for english language education tird this volume is the first in the global research on teaching and learning english series co published by routledge and tird

The English-speaking World

2014

in a context where cultural transformations have become a basic feature of modern life as people and nations are brought closer together this book tackles transformations occurring within and across cultures of the english speaking world in the fields of literature painting architecture photography and film it helps readers decipher these dynamic phenomena and situate them in a historical perspective the articles move within and across cultures and mirror the broad range of approaches to cultural practices that have appeared in the past few decades they provide readers with tools to work out the transformations these practices undergo and the new life and meaning this process infuses into cultures of the english speaking world this book will be useful to graduate and doctoral students as well as post doctoral researchers working in film studies cultural studies art history literature and creative writing its clear language and pedagogical approaches will also make it accessible to the general public

Multilingualism in the English-Speaking World

2004-10-01

describes how and where english is spoken and how it helps the world communicate accompanying cassettes include readings of texts in authentic accents activities and reading comprehension exercises

Customs and Lifestyle in the English-speaking World

2007-01-01

the anglo saxon century and the unification of the english speaking people is a book by john r dos passos anglo saxons were a cultural group who inhabited england in the early middle ages and were shaped from several incoming germanic tribes here historically analyzed in this study

Goethe and the English-speaking World

2002

mapping africa in the english speaking world addresses issues of representations of africa in the english speaking world english has become a global language which has turned the world into a global village and as graddol 2008 states it is now redefining national and individual identities worldwide shifting political fault lines creating new global patterns of wealth and social exclusion and suggesting new notions of human rights and responsibilities of citizenship this book grapples with the relationship between africa and the rest of the english speaking world and touches on issues of euro american misrepresentations of the continent in literary works and films misrepresentations which are nevertheless passed as true and infallible knowledge of africa marginalization of africans african languages and culture african scholarship language policy language diglossia african theatre in post colonial africa identity negotiations in post colonial africa and relations between gender and language among other issues these issues are bound to stimulate debates on africa and its representation s in the english speaking world

Multilingualism in the English-Speaking World

2008-04-15

includes the union s annual report

Leibniz and the English-Speaking World

2007-05-19

exam revision from the year 2014 in the subject english language and literature studies other university of bremen fb 10 english speaking cultures course key moments in the linguistic history of the english speaking world language english abstract this is my revision sheet for key moments in the linguistic history of the english speaking world it includes all aspects you need to know for the exam nevertheless you should also read the texts from mcintyre provided in studip if you take part in this course content old english history and language middle english history and language early modern english history and language translation of the bible standardisation great vowel shift inner outer and expanding circles pidgins and creoles north american english indian english english in the southern hemisphere australian english new zealand english black south african english white south african english language and educational policies

Traditional Chinese Fiction in the English-Speaking World

2022-08-16

the current volume presents a number of chapters which look at informal vernacular letters written mostly by emigrants to the former colonies of britain who settled at these locations in the past few centuries with a focus on letters from the nineteenth century such documents often show features for varieties of english which do not necessarily appear in later sources or which are not attested with the same range or in the same set of grammatical contexts this has to do with the vernacular nature of the letters i e they were written by speakers who had a lower level of education and whose speech and hence their written form of language does not appear to have been guided by considerations of standardness and conformity to external norms of language furthermore the writers of the emigrant letters examined in the current volume were very unlikely to have known of still less have used manuals of letter writing emigrant letters thus provide a valuable source of data in tracing the possible development of features in varieties of english in the usa canada south africa australia and new zealand

Teacher Education in the English-Speaking World

2008-05-01

lifelike offers a new approach to learning about the cultures of the english speaking world presenting them primarily from an insider s viewpoint rather than considering culture in terms of abstract information or common place assumptions lifelike focuses on real life experience and the way culture shapes daily life in today s multicultural societies that s why together with material such as articles web sites songs maps and geographical data lifelike employs a range of short accessible passages of fiction essay and autobiography by young writers from all over the english speaking world from zadie smith and nick hornby to daniel clowes and jhumpa lahiri exploring and commenting on aspects of their own culture from exciting new angles in language that is fresh authentic and direct

A Guide to the English-speaking World

1975

The English-speaking World

1919

Place Names of the English-Speaking World

1977-06-01

Cultural Links Teacher's Book+cd

2008-01-01

Teaching and Learning English in the Arabic-Speaking World

2014-02-05

Cultural Transformations in the English-Speaking World

2009-12-14

The English Speaking World

1996

In the English Speaking World

1998-12-01

English in Non-English-Speaking Countries: Practices, Perceptions, Challenges, and Perspectives

2022-04-13

Miracles

1981

The English-speaking World

2013

The Anglo-Saxon Century and the Unification of the English-Speaking People

2021-05-19

Newswriters' Unions in English-speaking Countries

1937

Mapping Africa in the English Speaking World

2010-10-12

The English-speaking World

1940

Look at the English-speaking World

1972

Revision. Key Moments in the Linguistic History of the English Speaking World

2014-09-03

English Speaking World

1920

Keeping in Touch

2019-11-28

Three essays on linguistic diversity in the Spanish-speaking world

2018-01-22

Goethe and the English Speaking World

1988

The Global and the Particular in the English-speaking World

2002

LifeLike

2005

- zimsec a level mathematics past question papers Copy
- nc blet study guide \(Read Only\)
- modern biology study guide answers 31 Copy
- sbi clerical exam question paper Copy
- grade 11caps accounting question paper grade11 march test 2013 only Full PDF
- [chilton repair manual torrent \[PDF\]](#)
- canon rebel eos service manual .pdf
- documento 8973 oaci \(PDF\)
- [zombie butts from uranus andy griffiths \[PDF\]](#)
- answers to phet ph lab \(Download Only\)
- organic chemistry paula bruice solution manual Copy
- psc bank exam question papers \(Download Only\)
- [how to go on living when someone you love dies therese a rando \[PDF\]](#)
- aphex twins selected ambient works volume ii marc weidenbaum \(Read Only\)
- [elementary experiments with solutions \[PDF\]](#)
- mcq with answers sociology Copy
- icse short stories workbook answers \(Read Only\)
- [android 2 user guide \[PDF\]](#)
- a galaxy unknown 1 thomas deprima \(2023\)
- ana 2014 grade9 march question papers \(PDF\)
- search engine optimization domain name \(2023\)
- grammarway 3 unit 4 answers Copy
- elementary stats triola 12th edition \(2023\)
- 2008 honda shadow spirit manual Copy
- three uk price guide \(Download Only\)
- sony ericsson k790 manual \(Read Only\)
- directv guide not updating \(2023\)

- maths paper 1 june 2001zimsec Full PDF
- hearn strength of materials solution Copy
- [craftsman dehumidifier user manual \[PDF\]](#)